Bedtime Story For the Little Ones UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FEATHER DUSTER.

BY HOWARD B. GARIS.

Fill, there is no use talking, said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuszy, the muskrat lady homeskeeper of Uncle Wigglly Longerize, the rabbit gentleman, as she came out, one day, on the front porch of his hollow stump ourgalow, where he was sitting to enjoy the cool September breeze from the Orange soda mountains.

"No use talking," What do you the feathers to make a duster," meantains.

"No use talking," What do you mean! asked Uncle Wigglis. "I though all you ladies liked to talk."

I do," Nurse Jans answered. "But I mean there is no use in trying any further to see the old feather duster. That is to say it isn't any good any more. The feathers have mostly failen out, the duster doesn't dust at all and—well. I need a new one that's all."

Thur's easy," said Uncle Wiggily, with a laugh. "I haven't anything to do just now So I'll go down to the three and eight cent store, and buy you a new duster."

So, taking down his red, white and bine striped theumatism crutch, that Nurse Jane had grawed for him out of a corastall, off started the bumy uncle. He had not gone very far before he came to the three and nine cent store, he started to go in to buy the feather duster, but he saw the door was locked and on it was a sign, saying: "CLOSED FOR THE DAY, IT IS TOO HOT TO WORK."

"Hat That's queer," said the buing made to himself, "Th just go down to the six and eight cent store. That will a be open, I'm sure."

the six and eight to be open. I'm sure."
So the tabbit gentleman himpity-hopped himself down to the six and sight cent store, and when he tried to go in there he saw a sign on the door CLOSED. WE HAVE ALL GONE TO

"CLOSED. WE HAVE ALL GONE TO A PICNIC"

"Well, this is getting very strange," the tabbit gentleman said to himself. "I wonder if I can find any of these feather durater stores open."

So Unele Wiggly hippity-hopped himself down another street and he came to a one and two cent store.

"I don't believe I can get a good feather durater here," and the bunny ancle to himself. "Still, I will try."

He went up to the door, and there he saw a sign which said:

"WE ARE CLOSED BECAUSE WE HAVE NOTHING MORE TO SELL."

"Well, now, what do you think of that?" cried Unole Wiggly. "I want to got Nurse Jane a feather duster, but i simply cannot do it. I wonder what I can do?"

So he sait down in front of the one lean do?

So he sat down in front of the one and two cent store in a shady place, looking very said and hopeless like, until, all of a sudden, he heard a voice section.

The burny gentleman looked up and saw Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, looking at him. And Sammie was just taking the last sweet taste of a lolly-pop. There was nothing left but the Matter? Matter enough! cried the "Matter: Matter snough! cried the bunny. "I'm trying to get a new feather duster for Nurse Jane but I cannot; because all the stores are closed."

"That's too had," apoke the rabbit too. I wind I could bein you. Ferhaps if you take this follyone stick you can make a feather duster out of that."

"I don't see haw," spoke the bunny gentleman. "At the same time I thank you sammite."

this time along came Charlie, the chicken boy.

"What's the matter?" he asked, seeing the bunky gentleman and Sammle ting the binny gentlemin and Samme standing there.

Undle Wiggily told about the feather duster he could not get because all the sloves were closed.

"Ha! I will help you," said Charlie. "Til give you some of my tall feathers, Uncle Wuggily, and you run faster them on the fellypop stick for a feather duster.

"Fine" cried the rabbit gentleman. "I'll take them."

duster." Thank you very much," said Uncle Wiggily. "It is very kind of you. Now, if I only had some." "Piense let me help you, too, with the feather duster, eried Dickie Chip-Chiu, the sparrow boy. "I can give some soft, tiny feathers that won't scratch the minne."

The feathers have mostly failen out, the duster doesn't dust at all and—well. I need a new one that's all."

That's easy," said Uncle Wiggily with a hanch. 'I haven't anything to do just now So I'll to down to the three and elight cent store, and buy you a new duster."

'Oh, that's so nice of you." excluded the muskrat lair. 'I was just horong you'd do this, but I didn't like to ask you for fear you might want to go blight cheekers with Grandpa Goons thanker. But if you would—"We course, I will." excluded the gratenian rabbit. "No checkers until tonight."

"Indeed I did not!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "It did not cost me a penny." And when he told how he got it the musk-rat lady laughed. PIONEER PLAZA HAS MORE PARKING SPACE FOR AUTOS

PARKING SPACE FOR AUTOS

Ample accommonations for 75 automobiles to park in Pidneer plaza were arranged Monday night by chief B. L. Zabriskie and Capt. L. L. Hall of the police department, by a systematic working out of the space west of the Sheldon hotal, laid out with white lines. An improvement over the former system of parking cars in the plaza was made by the laying off of a strip in the center of the plaza, the cars being parked on either side. This is mpch better than the old method of driving an automobile up to any space within the parking lines and leaving it, as it generally is a hard matter to get it, out from the mase of other cars in the center. The ne waystem permits the parking of 18 more machines in the plaze than were formerly able to use the space.

the space.

The 20 minute ordinance will apply to all cars which do not park within the white lines and park hear the enroing, said Capt. Hall. "We ask the cooperation of motorists in this maker as it is essential to the welfare of the it is essential to the welfare sof the city to obey the traffic ordinance. By working out the space we have obtained accommodation for 18 more cars than could be narked in the pigna formerly. The Herald parking space has been unde slightly smaller. Wotorists are urged to go by the man which was presented in the El Paso Figrald of several weeks and and they will not offend the ordinance."

Beauty Chats By Edna Kent Forbes

Are Mouth-Breathers Pretty?

ANY NUMBER of women have had ly are bad teeth or adenoids, and their chances of beauty spelled by these will keep the normal supply of having been mouth-breathers as blood from the brain and retard the children. The habit has spelled the development of the mind.

Mouth-breathers usually have bad teeth. This is a case for a new science called orthodontia, the science of straightening the teeth, making the "bite" perfect, and incidentally, bringing the jaw into position. Re ceding chins have frequently been actually brought forward, and more often, giving an appearance of firmness by the altered shape of the Mouti-breathing comes from clogged nose, generally. Adenoids are easily removed, and their re-moval means less danger of catarrh and similar ailments. Most schools now insist on the removal of such growths and the perfect care of children's teeth. But we of the older generation, who missed such perfect school care, have the results of careness to contend with.

Neither you nor your children can be beautiful so long as any of these petty aliments exist. You should be as well physically, as good living, rest, recreation and medical or scientific care can make you. Then, you will be almost as beautiful as is possible. Health is beauty first of all, after that comes the beauty of a cultivated mind and a good disposition, both of which affect the features.

When the Baby Can't Sleep

It's in the long, peaceful hours of sleep that your baby grows. When he can't sleep something is wrong. Probably his food is wrong.

Perhaps his little system is desperately struggling with the heavy curd and the germs of raw cow's milk, meant for the four big stomachs of a calf-not the one tiny stomach of your baby. The baby will sleep as he should and grow as he should if you give him the food he needs. Nurse him if you can. If you can't, give him the nearest thing in the world to mother's milk -

Nestlés Food

Because it has fresh cow's milk as a basis, it contains all the good that cow's milk contains.

Because all the dangers are removed, the tough curd modified and all baby needs added, it is just what your baby needs to build a healthy body.

Because it is purified and watched—and reduced to a powder—because no hand touches it and it comes to you in an air-tight can -it is as free from germs as mother's milk itself.

It is a complete food for your baby-you add only water and
